NOTICE.

A wedding trip across the prairies in ox teams would be looked upon as a great novelty, and yet we have living in Salt Lake the bride who, 50 years ago, joined Jedediah Grant's company and spent her honeymoon crossing the prairies in that fashion. The survivor of that event is Mrs. Lucy J. Thurston of 708 South Fifth East street, who speaks of the trip as having been filled with many amusing incidents and much pleasure.

They left Winter Quarters early in June, and traveled slowly over the plains. One day while riding horseback Mrs. Thurston galloped ahead of the train and descending a hill found herself in a small valley where she was
